

INTRODUCTORY DISCUSSION INSTRUCTIONS

By the Thursday of Week 1, you should introduce yourself in our “Class Introductions” discussion forum. After you introduce yourself, I would encourage you to respond to one or more of your classmates’ introductions to get used to the format.

Some of you may already know each other, but these introductions will also help me get to know you, find out what is going on in your lives, and get a feel for where everyone is as we begin our course.
